

February 14, 2018

To: All Value Hale/Class 1 Foam and CAFS Customers

Subject: SPS Obsolescence

In order to support the ever changing world of firefighting and better support the development of future technology, Hale is obsoleting the SPS controller. The UV display provides a much more user friendly and intuitive interface. With its integrated maintenance, calibration, presets, and tutorials the display provides the latest and greatest modification to our legacy foam and CAFS systems. The SPS is obsolete effective March 2018.

As the controller is significantly different than our legacy package we have provided an illustration of the changes to the product along with dimensions to help you better plan future installations.

Please Contact Hale Customer Service at 1-800-533-3569 or Halettechnicalservice@idexcorp.com if you have any questions or need assistance.